

About the F75 application form

Application for the FWC to deal with a sexual harassment dispute

This form is for use by a person who:

- is a worker, or seeking to become a worker, in a business or undertaking, or a person who is conducting a business or undertaking, and
- believes they have been sexually harassed in connection with work on or after 6 March 2023, and
- wants the Fair Work Commission to deal with a sexual harassment dispute by:
 - making a stop sexual harassment order, or
 - dealing with the dispute in another way, or
 - both.

An industrial association (a union) should also use this form if it is entitled to represent the industrial interests of a person who believes they have been sexually harassed and who wants the Fair Work Commission to deal with a sexual harassment dispute.

You can find out more about sexual harassment in connection with work on our website. This includes information about how we deal with sexual harassment disputes, how we handle the information you provide and requests for confidentiality.

If the person believes the sexual harassment at work happened or started before 6 March 2023, use Form F72A.

You should lodge this application within 24 months after the alleged sexual harassment in connection with work occurred, or last occurred. If you lodge the application after more than 24 months, the Commission may dismiss the application.

You can complete and lodge 1 application if 2 or more people wish to apply jointly or a union is entitled to represent the industrial interests of 2 or more aggrieved people, but only if the application is about the same alleged contravention(s).

This form asks questions about:

- the connection with work and what happened
- how to contact the people involved in the dispute.

When you complete the form it can help to have a pay slip or PAYG payment summary.

Lodging your completed form

Lodge your form with the Commission:

- by email to WDT@fwc.gov.au, or
- by post or in person at the the Commission's office in your state or territory.

We will send a copy of this form (and any attachments) to the other people in this case.

This may include:

- your employer or principal (if you had one when the alleged sexual harassment occurred)
- the people you name in the form as having engaged in sexual harassment (the Respondents), and their employers/principals
- any representatives or paid agents involved in the case.

This is so they can understand your side of the case. We will ask them for their side of the case as well. We will send you a copy of their response.

If you are worried about particular information being passed on, don't include it yet. Lodge your completed form and then contact us to talk about whether you should provide the information.

You can find out more about keeping a case confidential on our website.

What happens next

We will contact you to let you know what happens next. You don't need to do anything until then.

Form F75 – Application for the FWC to deal with a sexual harassment dispute

Fair Work Act 2009, s.527F, Fair Work Commission Rules 2024, rule 83

This is an application for the Fair Work Commission (the Commission) to deal with a sexual harassment dispute under Part 3-5A of the Fair Work Act 2009.

Stop sexual harassment order

The Commission has the power to deal with an application by making a stop sexual harassment (in connection with work) order. Apply for a stop order if you want the Commission to make an order to stop the sexual harassment from happening.

Dealing with the dispute another way

The Commission may also deal with a sexual harassment dispute another way, including by holding a conference to assist the parties to settle the dispute. If the dispute remains unresolved, the Commission may issue a certificate. If a certificate is issued, the applicant can bring a sexual harassment court application or, if some or all of parties agree, the matter can be arbitrated by the Commission. If the matter is arbitrated, the Commission has powers to make orders including for compensation, lost remuneration, and to make a person perform and carry out an action, and the Commission can express an opinion. There are time limits for making a sexual harassment court application or applying for the Commission to arbitrate a sexual harassment dispute. You can find out more about sexual harassment in connection with work on our website.

Please select from below which application you are making.

Part 1 – About the parties and what happened

3. About the aggrieved person

This is the person who alleges they were sexually harassed in connection with work.

Is there more than one aggrieved person involved in this dispute? Each Applicant who is an aggrieved person(s) should file a separate Form F75.

Please provide a telephone number for the aggrieved person. It is important that we can contact the person. If you give us a mobile number, we may send reminders by SMS.

We send a copy of this application to the other people in the case. We will remove the aggrieved person’s postal address before sending this application. If the aggrieved person is concerned about any of their other contact details being provided to the other people in the case, please contact us.

If the aggrieved person is under 18 years, the Commission encourages them to have a parent or guardian, or a legal representative, involved. We can provide information about how to find legal services.

13. Explain how you think the policy or procedure has not been followed

Complaints made elsewhere

14. Has a complaint been made about the same alleged sexual harassment to another agency or organisation?

For example, to a state or territory work health and safety regulator (eg WorkCover, WorkSafe), an anti-discrimination tribunal or a court.

- Yes – see below
- No – go to Part 2 and/or Part 3 (as applicable)

If you answered Yes to this question, this may affect your ability to start this case.

Tell us about the complaint made to another agency or organisation. Include the type of complaint, the name of the organisation or agency, when the complaint was made and whether the complaint is still being dealt with and any outcomes.

Part 2 – Stop sexual harassment orders

Only complete Part 2 if you are seeking a stop sexual harassment order. The Commission can only make a stop sexual harassment order if there is a risk of the aggrieved person continuing to be sexually harassed in connection with work.

15. What do you think needs to happen to stop the alleged sexual harassment from continuing?

The Commission cannot make an order for the payment of money (including compensation) as part of a stop sexual harassment order.

You can find more information about the kind of orders the Commission can make on our website.

Part 3 – Otherwise dealing with the dispute

Complete Part 3 if you want the Commission to deal with the dispute in addition to, or other than, by making a stop sexual harassment order. The Commission can mediate, conciliate, make a recommendation or express an opinion, and may issue a certificate under section 527R(3) if the dispute cannot be resolved.

16. What outcome are you seeking to settle the dispute?

You can find more information about the Commission’s power to deal with sexual harassment disputes on our website.

Part 4 – Is assistance required to access the Commission’s services?17. Is an interpreter needed?

We can arrange to provide information in another format. You can find information about help for non-English speakers on our website.

Yes – What language?

No

18. Does someone involved in the case need any special assistance at a conference or hearing (eg due to sight or hearing difficulties)?

If you answer yes, we will contact you before a hearing or conference to see if there is anything we can reasonably do to assist.

Yes – What do you need?

No
